

Sustainability Change-Makers

Equips you to catalyse sustainability change within your organisation

Drawing on the expertise of over 1'000 B Lab Switzerland member companies and based on the newly developed B Corps standards, B Lab Switzerland has developed a programme to equip sustainability practitioners with tools and insights to drive sustainability in your value chain.

For each impact topic of the new standards, we will cover:

- The context and key challenges
- The business case, explaining how it can create value for your company
- A practical framework to help you implement the requirements in your organization

Who should join the Programme?

This program is designed for sustainability leaders and their teams, as well as all change-makers within the organisation, at any level of sustainability maturity.

Why should you join the programme?
